LSU FETI

Marine Firefighting Command & Control

Course Description	Certification Information	Class Notes

 This course enables program participants to understand the differences between incidents unique to the maritime environment versus land-based incidents. The knowledge gained by students will compliment any existing training they have with information and understanding of the unique needs that maritime firefighting presents. The focus of the course is to assist with the development of maritime emergency response management & planning.

Hours	Cost
56	$2225

Course Cost & Dates Subject to Change