

Counseling Services

Counseling services for the small and large animal clinics are available to clients in need of help with regards to the loss of their pet and/or help with decisions regarding treatment or euthanasia. Located in the LSU School of Veterinary Medicine's Office of Student and Academic Affairs, Room 1213H, Mrs. Kayla Baudoin can be reached at 578-9452 or kbaudoin@lsu.edu; feel free to offer this information to any clients who may benefit.

Generally, examination room 5 serves as a visitation/conference room for clients and is where client-present euthanasia can also be performed. To reserve the room, utilize the white board outside the room, adding your name and date/time occupied.

Consults related to communication with clients and/or debriefing following challenging client experiences, anticipated difficult conversations, and/or loss/euthanasia of a patient are also available to clinical students. Mrs. Baudoin can be reached via Teams chat and at the aforementioned phone number and email address.
